High School Notes.

Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Jenkins visited Bellows Falls high school Wednesday.

Mr. Jenkins visited Middlebury on his way home from the teachers' convention.

Miss Dwinell is ill at her brother's home in Newport and Miss Austin is substituting for her.

Saturday Mr. Fletcher visited Walpole, N. H., high school. The orchard and garden which he started seven years ago were doing well.

The high school had a vacation of three days last week to allow teachers to go to the convention. This time will be made up Saturdays if necessary.

The Orleans high school took fourth prize for the exhibit at the Rutland exposition last week. A good deal of credit is due to Raymond Cole and Frank LaCourse, who set up and had charge of the exhibit.

Methodist Episcopal Church Notes.

The Wednesday evening service will be a class meeting this week and hereafter on the first week of each month.
Let us resolve to get all the good out of it we can.

Sunday services. Sermons by the pastor at 10.30 a. m., and 7.15 p. m., the morning service concluded by the administration of the Lord's supper.
Bible school at 12 m. to which all not connected elsewhere are cordially invited. The meetings of the Junior League will be resumed Sunday at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Fred Witt, superintendent.
We hope to see a good attendance at the first meeting.

Evening service at 7.15 with a song service followed by a practical gospel sermon by the pastor.

The W. H. M. society met at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 26.
The day was stormy yet a good number were present to enjoy the meeting conducted by Mrs. Kinney, the president. The program was in charge of Mrs. Dickens and was as follows: Roll call; "A Visit to Our Negro Homes," Mrs. Lanphier;
"Needs in the Southland," Mrs. Clyde Wiley. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Porter B. Bailey.

Porter B. Bailey, whose death has already been mentioned in this paper as occurring on October 18, was born in Charleston December 5, 1850 and was therefore about 65 years of age.
Death was caused by a stomach trouble of several months' duration. Mr.
Bailey married Miss Delia B. Campbell of Irasburg on May 22, 1879, and Mrs. Bailey survives him, besides one son, Franklin R., and a brother, H. R.
Bailey. The burial was in the Orleans cemetery Oct. 20 and Rev. W. S.
Smithers officiated. Mr. Bailey was a prosperous farmer and had lived on the farm on which he died many years, being a useful and highly respected citizen of the town.

Congregational Church Notes.

The mid-week service will be held in the chapel tonight at 7.30. Last week's service was unusually interesting and we expect a profitable service at this time.

Morning worship Sunday at the usual hour. The pastor will speak upon some appropriate and helpful subject and the choir will render excellent music.

Mr. Bowly who assisted us last week, is expected to sing again this service. All will want to hear him.
Holy communion will be administered.
The offering for our missionary society will also be received. A cordial welcome to all.

Sunday school will meet at the close of morning worship. The lessons have been of unusual interest recently.
Classes for all ages. Why not join one?

The Sunday evening service will be held in the church at 7.15. The first portion will be devoted to song. Come and enjoy this song service with us.
The pastor's sermon will be upon a vital and practical theme.

The Woman's Missionary society met with Mrs. Mary Joslyn Tuesday afternoon. There were 18 present.
Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Magoon. The exercises contained the following readings: "The Child in the Midst," Mrs. W. J.
Joslyn; "A Chinese Wedding," Mrs.
Magoon; "Missions and Business," Mrs. Gross; "American Interests in Turkey," Mrs. Hall; "Exile of the Armenians," Mrs. Joslyn. Several hymns on the Victrola were presented under the direction of Miss Kate Stevens. Mrs. Magoon has been elected a delegate to the state and national convention which meets in Burlington next week and she will attend.

field, Mass.

Miss Florence Gilles has been substituting in the graded school for Miss Findlay, during the latter's absence at her home in Charleston.

The Odd Girls met with Mrs. F. E.
Wilkie on Monday evening. Nearly a full membership was present. The evening was devoted to fine sewing.

The girls at the Turnbull office are rejoicing in the fact that they are to have half holidays on Saturday, the holidays to continue during good behavior.

A break-down at the engine room of the larger mill of the Chandler company has caused a temporary shutdown. Not more than two or three days will be lost.

Preston Skinner and Tom Buzzo are camping on the meadows north of the village and are devoting their whole time to hunting and trapping. They report excellent success.

The village boys got away with the usual Halloween stunts on Saturday evening and again on Monday evening.
Church bells, old wagons and door steps were the principal victims.

A concert party from the Ithaca Conservatory of Music will give an entertainment at the opera house on the evening of Nov. 16, under the auspices of the Orleans high school.
